

Hi!!

Thank you for visiting www.craftfactoryindia.com & Welcome to my little corner of the crafting world!

I love crafting and anything creative! It is truly a blessing to be able to do what I love. I craft with all sorts of mediums but my current obsession is candles, chocolates and food. My love for crafts started early, watching my mum create wonders from scratch...from beautiful wall décor to do up the living room ... to streamy dresses...to food-to-die-for...

I got inducted into it all with endless cross-stich on whatever I could lay my hands on ...

And today ,I am loving my day to day life, which is full of Soaps, candles, cakes, chocolates and any new crafts that keep coming up, of course. I have been experimenting with crafts, cooking up a storm (chocolates, ice-creams, desserts, regional foods)..., making soap & candles ... When I make soaps and candles, I bring aroma, sensation into my house (and it is overpowering!). Chocolates & Food, to me, is as big a sign of love as I can produce, and it makes me so happy when I do it for people I love. I love to create things out of raw materials because it is more meaningful to me than going out and buying something.

For me, crafting is therapeutic release, as well as an art form. I find that as I am sitting down with my colors and kits, my breathing slows, becomes deeper and more restful. I sift through all the crafting stuff and my focus changes from the everyday life I usually live, to a colourful & creative world full of prettiness.

Creative expression is greatly underappreciated at the moment, due the immense pressures of life. As well as expressing myself, I am making things that will hopefully either bring joy to someone else, or be useful in some way.

So, if you want to know an experience :

- Where nothing is right or wrong and know an art where you can be truly unique
- That will help you relax and take your mind away from other things of the day!
- Where you let yourself go and disappear into a world of your own, where Time stops until what you have set yourself to do is complete.

Come join us for the workshops that interest you, and I hope I can inspire you to come back to visit from time to time!
